

Press Release

Motors and Armatures, Inc. (MARS) Acquires Jard Corporation

Motors and Armatures, Inc. (MARS), a large international distributor of air conditioning and refrigeration components, motors, and electrical parts, is pleased to announce the acquisition of Jard Corporation (also known as Jard Magnetics) effective May 30, 2007. Jard is a leading supplier of transformers and other components for the HVAC/R industry, both Aftermarket and OEM channels.

All sales, customer service, distribution and accounting will be consolidated into the MARS systems with shipments beginning June 4, 2007. Our customer service team will be working closely with all customers throughout the transition to answer any and all questions.

MARS is excited to have Jard as part of their portfolio. This acquisition of Jard will enable MARS to provide a more extensive product offering with enhanced service levels while offering further avenues for overall growth.

For more information, contact MARS at 631-348-0200, ext. 302 or your local MARS sales representative.
